First impressions are important.

Potential buyers will decide whether they like your house within 30 seconds of stepping through your front door. homebase can fill your empty house with well-chosen furniture, art and accessories to give outsiders a peek at the life they could create if that house was theirs.

Overseas research shows that homestaged properties sell for 10-15 per cent more money and up to twice as fast as houses that haven't been staged.

Let homebase turn your house into someone else's home.

homebase also offers other services which include;

- Pick 'n' mix
- Home makeover advice
- Interior design and colour consultation
